Important Notes

- The above is an estimated bill. Your actual bill size may differ from the above estimate because of your personal medical condition(s) or your medical state as it develops, or the investigations, medication and treatment prescribed for your medical condition(s), including complications that may occur in the course of treatment or other medical condition(s) discovered in the course of your stay.
- Your doctor(s) have counselled you with regard to the risks of complications that may arise from the proposed medical treatment, even where reasonable care is taken in treating you. Complications may require medical treatment and, where needed, investigations, surgical or other procedures and an extension of your stay in hospital. The cost of such treatment, investigations, procedures and extended stay will increase the bill size of the charges payable by you.
- For Day Surgery, your payment class will be based on your outpatient class of Private or Subsidised.
- If you require follow up at the hospital's Specialist Outpatient Clinic or outpatient treatment after discharge, you will be charged SUBSIDISED OR PRIVATE PR - OUTPATIENT rate.
- The amount of Medisave claimable is subjected to the Central Provident Fund Board's guidelines and approval. The actual amount claimable from Medisave may differ from the amount shown above.
- The estimated MediShield / MediShield Life claimable amount is not representative of and does not guarantee the actual claimable amount from MediShield / MediShield Life, which would be based on your actual bill size and coverage situation.
- GST is absorbed for subsidised patients who are Singapore Citizens / Permanent Residents.
- Under the Work Injury Compensation Act (WICA), an employee can claim compensation from his employer if he suffers an injury or medical condition by accident due to work. For more information on Work Injury Compensation Act (WICA), please visit the Ministry of Manpower (MOM) website.
- If you require to be hospitalised after your day surgery, admission to the class of your choice will be subject to availability of beds.
